WELCOME TO VASCO DA GAMA TAVERNA

Colloquially known as 'The Portuguese Embassy', Vasco Da Gama Tavern is home to a small group of old favourite drinking holes in Cape Town, dating back to the early 70's. Originally established to quench the thirst of visiting (and generally boisterous) sailors, Vasco was infamous for its 'Men Only' policy - a rule that only changed in 2000!

Built with rocks retrieved from the old quarry (now known as Strand Street), the 1860 iconic landmark with opaque yellow stipple glass and black tiled flooring has clung to its historical roots despite the spread of new developments. Now nestled in the fast-growing trendy district of Green Point, Vasco remains a favourite escape amongst locals and new comers alike.
