

Wine is a discovery

As long as you're willing to learn and discover, you'll find new things

After college I pursued a career at Zorgvliet Estate, and my interest in wine developed. I learned a lot while working at the Estate, including a true appreciation for wine and what it means to be a sommelier.

After some years at the wine farm, I felt the need to grow professionally. The idea of working with wines appealed to me... So everything started - studying, visiting wineries, walking in the vineyards. I'm in love with the wine industry!

Achieving the Sommelier Certification in 2008 was a wonderful milestone in my life. I really enjoyed the learning experience I had with my mentors who are seriously dedicated to excellence in the wine industry. The passion for the business and for sharing excellent wines with others is like no other.

If you were to take one bottle of wine home with you tonight, what would it be?
