Named after the famous German Plane (and not being rude!), this beer is a typical Bavarian Hefe-Weizen. Made from half barley malt and half wheat malt, this beer is fermented with the classic Weihenstephan yeast. This beer is unfiltered (Hefe) and the yeast provides a delightful banana and clove character with a citrusy zing to the beer.

This is a true session beer, in the English style. Designed to be drunk (responsibly) in quantity. This beer is perfectly balanced with earthy tones from the hops and a bready, caramel note from the malt. A real easy drinker.
